

Geodata of Municipal Department 41 - Surveyors (MA 41) are transmitted in analogue (on paper) or digital form under the following conditions

1. The City of Vienna does not transfer any rights of ownership in the geodata transmitted to authorised users but merely grants them the non-exclusive right to use these data.
2. The use and processing of geodata is exclusively granted to persons authorised according to the licence of use. Upon request of MA 41, users shall provide information regarding the type, scope and purpose of their data use.
3. With the exception of analogue editions of minimal scope, any transmission of geodata (or extracts thereof) to third parties shall principally require the conclusion of a separate agreement with MA 41. Under this definition, the transmission to third parties shall also include the use of geodata in the context of competitions and tenders, as an integral part of information applications or in the form of publications of geodata and extracts thereof.

In particular in case of geodata transmission to third parties for the purpose of editing or processing, users vouchsafe to the City of Vienna that these third parties will use the data exclusively within the scope of their tasks and in accordance with the present terms and conditions of use and will delete the data immediately after completion of their tasks. Correspondingly, users undertake to pass on the rights and duties under the present licence of use to these third parties and, upon request, shall disclose to MA 41 the names of these third parties as well as the type of data, scope and purpose of data transmission.

4. Any resale of geodata or extracts thereof shall be excluded under the present terms and conditions of use.
5. Any reproduction or publication of geodata and follow-up projects in analogue or electronic media shall require the addition, in a prominent position, of the source reference "Map source: Multi-purpose map of MA 41 – Surveyors".
6. The use of geodata (or extracts thereof) in the form of graphic visualisation in information networks shall in any case ensure that the data will be protected against unauthorised downloading. In particular, only illustrative information regarding smaller areas (no vector data) may be presented on the Internet.
7. Suitability of use: the geodata of MA 41 are a generalised representation of nature; they are suited to serve as a basis for general analyses, plans and visualisations. All types of specialised detailed studies call for specific, task-related data capturing.
8. With specific reference to the suitability for the uses defined above, the City of Vienna expressly assumes no liability for any defects of its geodata and resulting consequential damage. The City of Vienna does not warrant for the completeness, topicality and accuracy or precision of its data. Data users are under obligation to verify the data, in particular if these are used as a basic planning tool. Users undertake to indemnify the City of Vienna vis-à-vis claims of third parties.
9. Users shall be entitled to copy geodata (and extracts thereof) only to the extent absolutely necessary for the purposes of data protection and use in accordance with the terms and conditions of use.
